BEING A TEACHER

“The dinner guests were sitting around the table discussing life. One man, a CEO, decided to explain the problem with education. He argued, “What’s a kid going to learn from someone who decided his best option in life was to become a teacher?” He reminded the other dinner guests what they say about teachers: “Those who can, do. Those who can’t, teach.”

To emphasize his point, he said to another guest; “You’re a teacher, Susan. Be honest. What do you make?”

Susan, who had a reputation for honesty and frankness replied,

“You want to know what I make?”

- * “I make kids work harder than they ever thought they could.
- * “I make kids sit through 40 minutes of study hall in absolute silence.

“You want to know what I make?”

- * “I make kids wonder.
- * “I make them question.
- * “I make them criticize.
- * “I make them apologize and mean it.

I make them understand that if you have the brains, and follow your heart, and if someone ever tries to judge you by what you make, you must pay no attention because they just didn’t learn.”

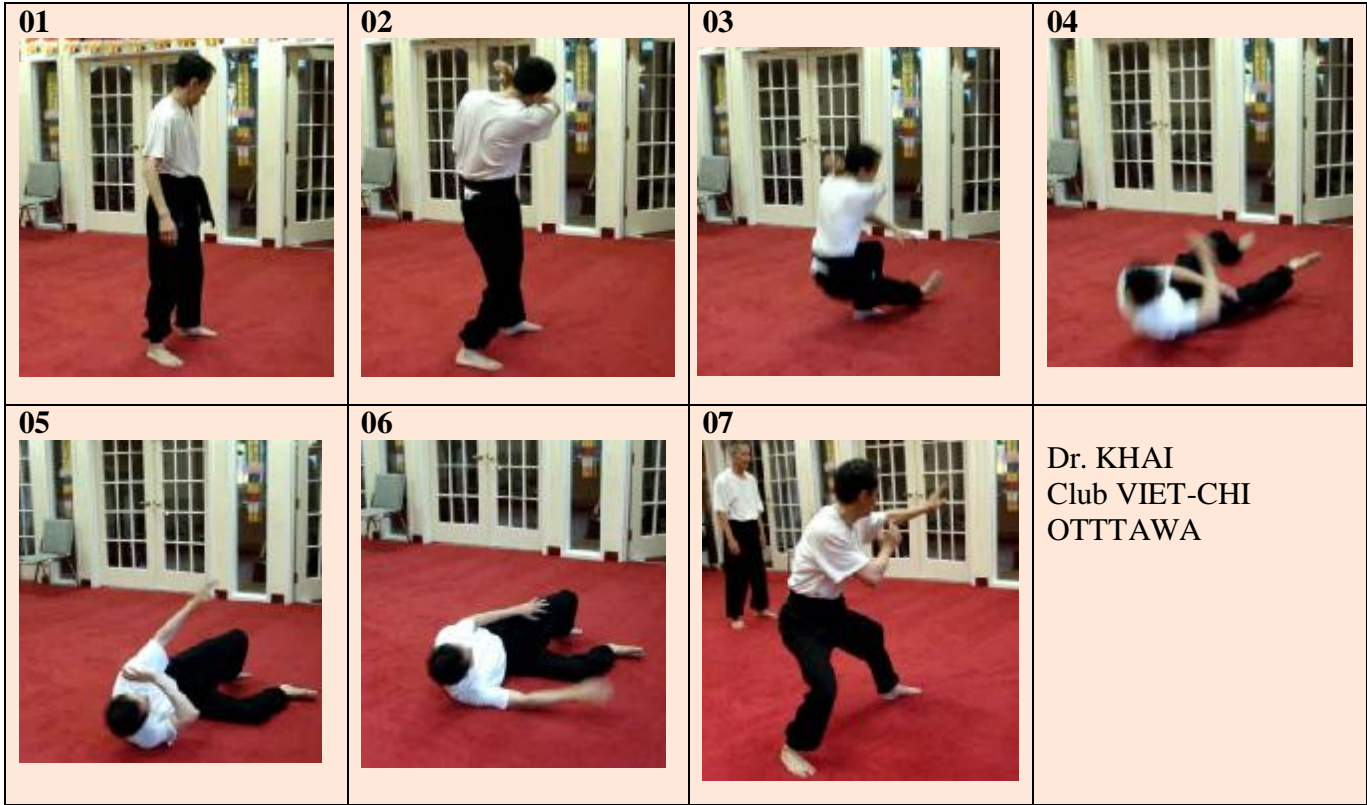

Susan paused and then continued. “You want to know what I make? ‘I MAKE A DIFFERENCE.’”

THERE IS MUCH TRUTH IN THAT STATEMENT:

“Teachers make every other profession possible!” (Received in my email box, 2006. Excerpt)

Dear Truongs, LBB, and Peace Black Belts, this is worth sending to every teacher you know and everyone on your mailing list, for that matter. Transmitting to others our arts and knowledge of any of the eight Viet-Chi disciplines we are proud to be TEACHERS.
